Dear APC Members,

February 15, 2016

APC recently met again with the county regarding East Joyce Lane.

The county is very aware that East Joyce Lane will be heavily impacted when the proposed new developments in the area are built. Therefore, it is working with the three developers, Anne Arundel County Schools and APC to make improvements to East Joyce Lane.

Planning and Zoning is proposing the following:

A traffic study be conducted and data collected on the impacts once the current proposed developments are complete: Hawthorne's Grant, Arnold Overlook, 61 East Joyce Lane, the Hagan townhouses and the new Arnold Elementary School.

The developers improve East Joyce Lane to make it a bona fide county road – 50 feet right-of-way with 28-foot paved surface, curbs and gutters, lights and utilities, and sidewalks.

APC has formally requested the traffic study include Church Road, Old Baltimore & Annapolis Boulevard, Arnold Road and the Route 2 / Arnold Road intersection, as well as the Joyce Lane/Route 2 intersections.

The first step is data collection. This will not be a fast process. It is only in the initial draft stages and will likely take years for completion. It is all PROPOSED; however we want to make sure we keep our members informed. We are working hard to mitigate any harmful impacts. Getting involved early, and staying involved, gives you the best opportunity to influence the end results.

To keep you informed, we will present more information at our March 14th meeting. We will start at 7 p.m. to just discuss East Joyce Lane and will begin our regular meeting with guest speaker Amalie Brandenburg, County Executive Education Advisor, at 7:30 p.m.

In the meantime, please call me at (443) 603 – 7118 with any questions and I will do my best to answer them.
